

Nerve Slavery

It is present-day conditions—heaping burdens of work upon the nervous system that tells the story—premature breaking up of health.

It tells why so many men and women, who so far as age is concerned, should be in the prime of health, find themselves letting go of the strength, the power, the vitality they once possessed. It is because that great motor power of the body, nerve force, is impaired. Neither will the heart, the brain, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach act right without their proper nerve force supply. Let any organ be lacking in this essential and troubles begin—some of them are:

Throbbing, palpitating heart.
Sleepless nights.
Sudden startings.
Morning languor.
Brain fog.
Inability to work or think.
Exhaustion on exertion.
Flagging appetite.
Digestion slow.
Food heavy.
Easily excited, nervous, irritable.
Strength fails.
Loss of flesh and muscular power.
Bottled melancholia.

A RECORD BREAKER

Not Since Adoption of Constitution Has Congress Done So Much.

THE SPEAKER SAID SO

When This Bit of Praise Was Officially Bestowed the Members Fairly Made the Dome Ring.

Jubilant Scenes in the House of Representatives When Session Finally Adjourned.

Washington, July 2.—Amid a scene of enthusiasm that has not been paralleled since the exciting and stirring days of the Spanish war, Speaker Henderson at 5:30 last evening declared the house of representatives adjourned without day. In doing so he said that no house of representatives since the adoption of the constitution has done as much work as this one. The audience to which he made his brief address was a brilliant one. The galleries were banked to the doors and almost two-thirds of the members were in their seats on the floor. The speaker's appreciative words to the members in thanking them for their cooperation during the session had touched a responsive chord and they gave him a remarkable demonstration of their friendship and good will. While the cheering and applause were still in progress the members on the floor, led by Representative Landis of Indiana, began singing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." It was taken up by the correspondents in the press gallery over the speaker's chair and by the spectators in the surrounding galleries, and soon the vast hall was ringing with the swelling chorus. Other patriotic airs followed as the members exchanged farewells. "The Star Spangled Banner" alternating with "Dixie." The speaker came down from his rostrum, his appearance on the floor greeted with "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and a perfect rush of members to grasp his hands. Standing in the area in front of the clerk's desk he, too, joined in the songs and there was a wild scene when General Hooker of Mississippi, the one-armed Confederate veteran, took his place by the side of the speaker and together they sang "Dixie."

Mr. Candler, a Mississippi Democrat, jumped upon a desk and gave a yell of jubilation that fairly shook the rafters. For almost half an hour the jubilation continued. All this time the spectators remained standing in the galleries watching the animated scene below and joining in the singing. The adjournment came at the end of a seven and a half hours' session, during which much minor business was transacted. In all 70 bills and resolutions were passed. The general good feeling in the house had been heightened by the victory won over the senate on the item in the naval appropriation bill for the building of a battleship in a government yard. The closing hour was occupied with a spirited debate between Mr. Cousins of Iowa and Mr. Richardson, the Democratic leader, over the report on the investigation into the charges made by Captain Christmas concerning the sale of the Danish West Indies. Mr. Cousins ridiculed Mr. Richardson for bringing the matter to the attention of congress. The latter defended his course. The report of the committee completely refutes all charges of bribery in this connection.

A WARM DEBATE

Last Hour of Senate Marked By War of Words.

Washington, July 2.—After a session marked by some of the stormiest debates ever heard in the American congress the senate adjourned sine die at 5:30 last evening.

During the last hours of the session there was a tart debate on the Philippine question participated in by Messrs. Carmack of Tennessee, Spooner of Wisconsin, Culberson of Texas, McComas of Maryland, and Lodge of Massachusetts. The conference report on the Philippine government bill was adopted without very serious opposition, and then when the decks of the senate were cleared for adjournment Mr. Carmack called up his resolution providing for a continuance of the investigation of the Philippine commission and for a visit to the Philippines by the committee during the present summer. This started the trouble, and for more than an hour a battle of words was waged. Mr. Spooner delivered a scathing denunciation of the majority of the Philippine committee for what he declared was an attack upon the American army. Mr. Carmack denied that any attack had been made upon the army, and declared that any fool could charge such a calumny and any parrot could be taught to repeat it. The resolution was referred to a committee, thus effectually killing it. Just before adjournment the usual resolutions were adopted, including one offered by Mr. Cockrell, the venerable Democrat of Missouri, cordially thanking President Protem Frye for the dignified, impartial and courteous manner in which he had presided over the deliberations of the senate. After the adoption of the resolution Mr. Frye responded briefly and then declared the senate adjourned without day.

LOOKING FORWARD

Gubernatorial Booms That Promise to Develop.

Indianapolis, July 2.—Elam Neal, postmaster at Jonesboro, and several other Republican politicians of the Eleventh district, were in Indianapolis last night on business. However, they generally manage to talk politics to some one, as there are always a number of "steadies" about the hotels and clubs waiting for news. The Eleventh district men had good words to say for George A. H. Shideler of Marion, who is now generally regarded as a full-fledged candidate for the Republican nomination for governor in 1904. The district, which is one of the strongest Republican districts in the state, they said would line up solidly and enthusiastically for him, and they expressed confidence in the ability of Shideler to get "next" in many other localities. It is difficult to figure this far ahead who is to be the Republican nominee for governor, as there will be a number of strong candidates. It is significant, however, that certain politicians who are returning now from Washington should be boosting Congressman Hemmaway of the First district so strongly. Many believe that some of the most powerful politicians in the state are behind the Hemmaway boom, but of course it is too early yet to tell.

If Senator Beveridge is not the youngest member of the senate, he looks younger than any of his colleagues. His smooth-shaven face and immaculate attire make him appear younger than he really is, generally to his secret annoyance, as 'tis hinted by his friends that he does not like to be told that he is young-looking. A prominent politician who has just returned from Washington tells a good story in this connection. He says Beveridge was standing in his committee room one day recently when an elderly and pompous-looking gentleman brushed by him and asked for the senator. "I am the senator," Beveridge replied. The pompous one surveyed him silently and not without a certain amount of contempt for the statement. "You can't work that on me," he retorted. "I've been to town before. I want to see the senator." The pompous individual grew almost angry when Beveridge repeated that he was the senator. He left the building in a frown, saying as he went that he would soon find the senator and have him (Beveridge) "fired" for being "flip" to callers. Senator Beveridge expects to spend some time in the West during the summer, but he will be home to take part actively in the state campaign.

Ernest Tripp received word today that his friend, Perry Newby, of Knightstown, is confined to his home by smallpox. He has only a mild attack, however, and is hopeful of being able to recover within a short time. Newby is one of the best-known Republican politicians in the state, having been a member of the state senate two sessions and a leading candidate for lieutenant governor two years ago. Aided by Tripp and other prominent Republicans, he made a hard fight for the place, but was defeated rather unexpectedly by Newton W. Gilbert, now a prospective candidate for governor. It was learned today from some of Newby's friends that he will hardly be a candidate again for lieutenant governor, although that has been the general impression up to this time. There is some talk among his friends of grooming him for some better position, but just now he is not a candidate for anything.

The "bucket shop" case that has been occupying the attention of Federal Judge John H. Baker for the last three days is attracting more than ordinary attention, as there are bucket shops in most of the important cities of the state. If the Chicago Board of Trade, which is plaintiff, should be successful in getting an injunction preventing the "buckets" from using its quotations, it would probably mean no more bucket shops, but the attorneys for the defendants are confident of defeating the case on the ground that the board itself is the biggest bucket shop in the country and that it is not entitled to the protection of the laws it violates. The arguments and testimony has brought out the fact that frequently there are days on change when more grain is sold than is produced in a year.

He Was Remorseful.

Hartford City, Ind., July 2.—Joseph Winters, a glass blower of Anderson, after roaming the streets of this city acting like an insane person, suddenly regained his senses, and was so mortified over his conduct that he stepped in front of a train, two miles distant and was instantly killed. Little is known of his antecedents, save that his wife recently secured a divorce.

New Census Bureau.

Washington, July 2.—The organization of the first permanent census bureau of the United States was effected yesterday. All the clerks who reported, 750 in number, were regularly assigned to divisions in the permanent bureau and had to take new oaths of office and receive new commissions.

A Farmer's Suicide.

Harrodsburg, Ky., July 2.—George Elliott, a prominent farmer 65 years of age, hung himself in a barn near this city yesterday a short time after his wife had been found lying in the road dying from the effects of wounds on her head. Mr. Elliott claimed his wife was killed by a horse.

CHINA HOLDS BACK

Payment of Indemnity to Powers Promises to Cause Further Trouble.

FIRST INSTALLMENT

This Is Now Due and the Chinese Government Has Notified the Powers That It Will Not Be Paid.

Complications Arise Due to the Fluctuation of Silver Which Is the Basis of Payment.

Peking, July 2.—The Taotai of Shanghai has notified the bankers' committee that China refuses to pay the July installment of the indemnity, except at the rate of exchange prevailing in April, 1901. The foreign ministers consider that the Taotai's announcement is the result of the announcement of the United States minister, Mr. Conger, to the Chinese government that the United States sustains China's contention and is willing to accept payment on the basis mentioned.

But the ministers are confident that China will be willing to accept the decision of the majority of the ministers when she learns that the United States is her only supporter. Some of the ministers insist that the policy of the United States is unreasonable and in direct opposition to the terms of the protocol. They assert that Prince Ching, head of the foreign office, and other Chinese officials, before learning that China had the support of the United States in this matter, admitted that their arguments were rather a plea for mercy than a demand for justice.

A GRAVE QUESTION

China's Integrity May Be Involved in the Issue.

Washington, July 2.—The state department has not yet been notified of the Chinese refusal to pay the July indemnity, which is the first payment of money to come due from China to the powers since the signature of the Peking agreement. The department regrets being placed in a position of taking issue with the powers on this question, which is so important that grave doubt is entertained as to the probable effect of an insistence on the European contention as affecting China's integrity. It is nevertheless the case that a careful reading of the proceedings of the ministers at Peking which led up to the agreement, taken in connection with the context of the document, has convinced the department that it was the unquestionable purpose of the ministers, and that purpose was clearly set out in their proceedings, to permit China to pay the indemnity at the rate of exchange as it existed on the date of the signature, and it is equally clear that what appears to be a contradictory clause in the agreement was nothing more nor less than an inadvertence. However, the United States has not gone to the length of refusing to accept its payment on the same basis as the other powers, namely, at the current rate of exchange; all it has done in that direction was to notify China that it regarded her contention as reasonable and a proper one. A dispatch from London last night said that Great Britain proposes to permit silver payment of the Chinese indemnity until 1910 on account of China's great loss owing to the depreciation of the price of silver.

TO GIVE THANKS

Public Expression of Gratitude For King's Recovery in London.

London, July 2.—There is some talk in official circles of a public thanksgiving service at St. Paul's cathedral when the king is sufficiently recovered to attend. This proposal, if carried out, will be quite apart from the coronation, which when it takes place, will be largely confined to a religious ceremony. The invitations to foreign powers to send representatives will be considerably curtailed, being restricted to countries connected with Great Britain by ties of blood or special friendship.

The steady progress of King Edward is fully maintained and his majesty takes light nourishment with keen enjoyment. He is allowed a light cigar a day. He evinces the greatest interest in the arrangements for yesterday's review of the colonial troops, and he was eager that the people should be in some way compensated for their disappointment because of the postponement of the coronation.

Killed the Peace Maker.

Clarksburg, W. Va., July 2.—Former Chief of Police James Childers was shot and instantly killed by William Myers, an employee of the city fire department, last night. A man named Hurst and Myers had an altercation in the Crescent saloon and Childers attempted to act the part of peace-maker, when Myers suddenly pulled a revolver and shot Childers in the stomach.

Printing Investments.

Washington, July 2.—The census bureau has issued its report on printing and publishing in the United States for the census year 1900, showing a capital of $292,517,072 invested in the 22,312 establishments reporting for the industry.

THE FIRST BLOOD

Guards in a Pennsylvania Colliery Kill An Italian.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 2.—The first loss of life during the anthracite strike occurred yesterday at the William A. Colliery at Durycia. Antonio Giusulpe, an Italian, was shot dead by one of the coal and iron policemen from behind the stockade of the colliery. Reports differ as to the cause of the shooting. The friends of the dead man say he was walking on the road near the stockade when he was fired upon. The man was on his way from Scranton to Durycia. Another report is that the Italian tried to get over the fence, and would not heed the warning of the policeman to go away. He insisted on making his way into the stockade and was fired upon.

The guard at the William A. Colliery was doubled last night and the sheriff swore in a special posse to preserve order. When darkness came about a thousand people collected in the vicinity of the mine and an attack would undoubtedly have been made on the guards had not the sheriff's posse kept the crowd in check. When the corner completes his investigation some of the deputies employed at the colliery may be placed under arrest.

Amnesty Proclamation.

Washington, July 2.—The terms of the general amnesty proclamation to the Filipinos have been definitely agreed on by the authorities here and have met the approval of Acting Governor Luke Wright of the Philippines, to whom they were submitted for inspection. The proclamation is to be made public simultaneously in the Philippines and in this country. Its general terms already have been stated, the intention being to grant amnesty to all offenses committed under the order and direction of the insurrectionary authorities.

Congressional Appropriations. Washington, July 2.—Just before the senate adjourned finally yesterday, Senator Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, presented a statement showing the total appropriations for the session by bills to be $300,192,837. The total last year was $720,335,575.

SENATOR FAIRBANKS will go from Washington to New York City for a brief stay before his return to Indianapolis for the summer. He will make an address in Kansas City on Labor Day.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE will go to California soon to spend a few weeks on a ranch. He has accepted an invitation to speak at the meeting of the National League of Republican Clubs at St. Louis in October.

THROUGHOUT the country the press characterizes Senator Bailey's attack on Senator Beveridge as unwarranted and disgraceful. Simply because Senator Beveridge got the better of Bailey in a debate he got mad and acted the part of a bully.

The first session of the fifty-seventh congress adjourned Tuesday evening and the salaried statesmen will scatter in every direction to spend their vacation. This has been an unusually important session of congress and much important legislation was enacted.

GROVER CLEVELAND announces that he will make some speeches during the campaign. He will probably not participate in the Nebraska campaign, but since Billy O'Brien and Tom Taggart are bossing things in Indiana, and neither ever were in line with the free silver push he may come as far west as Indiana.

Making Good Progress.

The Jackson County Farmers Insurance Company is starting out excellently. Insurance to the amount of $100,000 has already been written in this company which puts it on a substantial basis to begin with. The farmers are well pleased with the way the managers are pushing the business forward. The officers of the company are Jas. W. Lewis, president, Holmes Robertson, secretary; D. C. Bower, treasurer, and W. H. Dally, general manager.

DIED.

MUNDEN:—Mrs. Jane Munden, the mother of A. N. Munden, died at her home at Little York, June 29, age 78 years. Burial Monday afternoon.

STEEPLE CLIMBING.

It is a Dark as Well as a Dangerous Business.

Steeple climbing is in truth "dark business," says the Boston Transcript for it is the custom of experts to make the first ascent and place the rigging at night. Then, when the townspeople wake, they are amazed at finding the steeple conquered. The man who makes a success of steeple climbing must be determined, persistent and ingenious. He must solve many a practical problem in hoisting great bodies aloft. He must know how to fasten a hook over the top of a skyscraper chimney. He must have the nerve to paint a steeple that sways like a pendulum at the slender top. He must be able to tear down, build up, gild, paint, place electric wires and do many another task that would be a problem on the solid earth.

There are many ways of getting up a steeple, and when all others fail the man will tie a rope round it and then, with a coil on his back, walk round and round it until the entire steeple is covered with rope and he has probably been round it fully 300 times.

But a steeple is not the most difficult height to climb. Straight, tall chimneys are the hardest of all. There a man has to work with might and main to lift himself inch by inch from the ground to the top. Sometimes the top is 300 feet high. When it is reached, a hook is placed over the edge, a pulley is made fast, the swinging chair is hauled up and work begins.

When the chair is near the top, it is easier to work, because the ropes are short; but when they lengthen, as the ground is approached, there is a tendency to swing, and the wind gives impetus.

The man's safety depends upon the hook, and until he has raised himself almost to the top it is impossible for him to see whether or not the hook has been properly adjusted. More than once a steeple climber has seen when within ten feet of the top that corrosion of the iron and the collection of soot have so thickened the wall that the hook is merely balancing on the top, so that the slightest pull in the wrong direction would drag it off. Again, the bricks are often loose at the top, and the hook is likely to tear them away.

One of the natural difficulties to conquer is the swaying of all high steeples and chimneys. In a gale a steeple point will sway a foot and a half. Usually it sways from seven to nine inches. Painting it means reaching for a spot on the right side and finding it on the left, and when making a dive for it on the left to see it sway back to the right. Yet in spite of the constant danger a born steeple climber exults in his work and is at home only when high above the world. He can stand triumphant at any height if he can have two and a half square inches to bear his weight.

When the Rod Was Not Spared.

The change of thought and conditions of mankind is no better illustrated than by the history of the rod. In an article on the morals of the child by Dr. Grace Peckham Murray there is mention made of a Suban schoolmaster who during his fifty-one years of superintendence of a large school had given 911,500 canings, 121,000 floggings, 209,000 custodes, 130,000 fives with the ruler, 10,200 boxes on the ear and 22,700 tasks by the heart-Delictator.

NOTABLE MAN HUNTS

HOW CRIMINALS HAVE BEEN CHASED TO THE ENDS OF EARTH.

Benson, Who Posed as Mme. Patti's Agent, Cheated Justice by Death. Relentless Energy of the Police in Tracking Counterfeiters.

There have been many long pursuits of criminals, great in the distance traveled, the obstacles overcome and the persistence of the pursuing officers, but that of Sergeant Wood of the Natal (South Africa) police is doubtless a record breaker. The man sought by Sergeant Wood was charged with embezzling large sums of money at Pietermaritzburg. He got away from South Africa and went to New York. Although the detective had information as to where his quarry was hiding, yet he had first to visit London to obtain the necessary extradition papers. Then he hurried to America and with the assistance of the United States police ran down his man. By the time he had reached Maritzburg he had been traveling hard for nearly three months and had covered nearly 21,000 miles.

One of the sternest chases of recent years was after Loys Darrell, formerly sergeant in the Seventh United States cavalry. Darrell enlisted at the beginning of the Spanish-American war and distinguished himself at Cuba. There he fell in love with a pretty Spanish girl and beguiled himself in buying finery for his sweetheart. To obtain more money he robbed and murdered a companion in arms named Crouch. He then fled.

A detective named Dupuy was put upon the murderer's track and, finding a clew, started for New Orleans. He was right in his surmise that Darrell had gone there, but when he arrived the bird had flown. He had left on a British mule transport for South Africa. Dupuy took train for New York, fast boat for Southampton, rushed by rail across Europe, caught a boat of the German East African line and finally arrived at Belra, in Portuguese East Africa.

There he waited like a spider for a fly, and just as Darrell was fancying himself safe from pursuit he pounced upon him. Later on the detective deposited his prisoner safely in Castle William jail in New York. He had traveled in all 31,000 miles and spent $4,250 in the chase.

One of the most astonishing criminals England ever produced was a man named Benson, who began operations in London with two confederates. He organized a series of swindling companies in the city, while he himself, pretending to be an invalid, lived in the greatest luxury in the Isle of Wight. He posed as a great philanthropist, was foremost in charitable works and went into the very best society. By dint of bribing certain officers of the law he lived for some years on the proceeds of his swindles. But one day the crash came. He was arrested, sentenced and got a long term in Portsmouth jail.

No sooner was he out than he was at his old tricks again. These culminated in Switzerland, where he managed to gain the affections of the daughter of an English officer. Through her he induced her father to trust him with the investment of his entire capital, some $25,000. He bolted with the money.

Chased across Europe, a detective caught him at Bremen. To avoid scandal the victim promised not to prosecute if Benson would give up the money. The latter did so and left for America. Hardly was the vessel out of sight before it was discovered that the bundle of scrip the thief had handed over was worth at most $100.

Followed across the Atlantic, Benson escaped to Mexico, where he made $5,000 by passing himself off as Mme. Patti's agent and selling forged concert tickets. By this time his photograph was in almost every police bureau in the world. Yet he dodged and twisted under a dozen aliases and was heard of in almost every South American state before a clever New York detective ran him down in Rio after a two years' hunt.

Even then he cheated justice. Landed in prison in New York, he walked upstairs, chatting amiably to his jailer. Suddenly he made a spring and jumped clean over the banister. He was picked up with a broken back and died that night.

The police never exhibit more relentless energy than in hunting down a colner. A colner's crime is against government, and so the whole forces of the state are against him. The United States suffers far more from colners than England does and is proportionately keen to run down such offenders. Early in 1900 a man named Hastings was surprised in his workshop, from which he had issued many thousands of small silver coins, but he was too quick for his would be captors and escaped. No fewer than seven secret service men were put on his track. The remarkable fact is that Hastings never attempted to leave the states.

Elmer, one of the detectives, got a hint that a stranger was in the woods. He took a blanket and some food and hid himself in a thicket. Very early in the morning Hastings passed, carrying a bag of food. Elmer tracked him to his refuge and found that the forger was armed. He waited some distance away in hiding. When night came Hastings came out with a dark lantern and searched every bush near his hiding place. At last he was satisfied and went back. So soon as Elmer felt sure the man was asleep he crept up and had the handcuffs on him before he could awake. On the way to the jail Hastings told his captor that he had seen him on ten different occasions and had once, in Cincinnati, been within three feet of him in a theater.—Chicago Chronicle.

Two Girls Drowned.

A special to the Times Star from Monticello states that Alma and Ada Kilgas, ten and eight year old daughters of John Kilgas, living near Reynolds, Ind., were drowned Sunday. They were crossing a field covered with water and stepped into an unseen washout caused by the late rains. Their ten-year old brother attempted to rescue them, but without avail. Mr. Kilgas has bought H. C.
Dannett's farm south of town and expects to move here about the first of September.

Notice

During the past few weeks there has been a great deal of complaint about riding bicycles on the sidewalks and riding after night without lamps.
There has also been complaint about boys shooting air guns on the streets.
Both of the above offenses are punishable under the city ordinances and from this time on the ordinances will be enforced. Any person or persons seen riding bicycles on the sidewalks of the city or riding on the streets after 7 o'clock p. m. without a lamp on the same will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Back to Frison.

John Wright, paroled convict, was put off of No. 4 here Tuesday too drunk to be associated on the train with respectable passengers. He was taken to jail by Marshal Thicksten to sober up. It developed that he was out of the Reformatory on parole. The prison authorities were notified and an officer came for Wright and took him back to Jeffersonville on the evening train. It is understood that Wright was sent to prison from Bartholomew county.

Slaying Squirrels.

L. F. Miller and C. S. Mercer went to the country last evening and this morning early started to the woods with guns and ammunition in search of the festive squirrels. A report came to town this forenoon that they had brought down eighteen before 7:30 and expected to double that number by the time the dinner bell rang if the mosquitoes did not drive them from the woods.

MISS LAURA HOWARD,

President South End Ladies' Golf Club, Chicago, Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound After the Best Doctors Had Failed to Help Her.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I can thank you for perfect health to-day. I felt so sick for a year or two ago. I had constant pains, my limbs swelled, I had dizzy spells, and never knew one day how I would feel the next. I was nervous and had no appetite, neither could I sleep soundly nights. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, used in conjunction with your Sanative Wash, did more for me than all the medicines and the skill of the doctors. For eight months I have enjoyed perfect health. I verily believe that most of the doctors are guessing and experimenting when they try to cure a woman with an assortment of complications, such as mine; but you do not guess. Now I wish all suffering women could only know of your remedy; there would be less suffering I know."—LAURA HOWARD, 113 Newberry Ave., Chicago, Ill. $5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.
